1. POLICY STATEMENT

1.1 Canteen operators and canteen staff will:

- design menus and promote and provide food and beverages to support health and wellbeing
- reinforce nutrition and related programs including the social aspects of food and its enjoyment
- keep the wellbeing of the student foremost in mind in decisions about services and procedures. This means that planning and services take into account ethnicity, language, culture, religion, social and economic conditions
- respond (through practices and procedures) to changing priorities of a dynamic school community
- maintain effective links with students, staff, parents and the wider community
- provide opportunities for schools to promote health and wellbeing.

1.2 The Department recognises that any school canteen is required to operate as a viable business while supporting the health and wellbeing of its consumers.

2. RATIONALE

2.1 Canteens have a primary role in providing food services to students and the wider school community. They also provide opportunities for students to make informed consumer decisions.

2.2 The operation of a canteen in a school provides opportunities to complement and support student learning by reinforcing teachers’ messages about food. The social, cultural, environmental and nutritional aspects of food can be addressed through:
• school communities committing to the Health Promoting Schools approach
• canteens reinforcing nutrition education
• the provision of food and beverages based on the current Australian dietary guidelines for children and adolescents
• reinforcing environmental education particularly in regard to waste management.
